

Donor Privacy Profile

New Vision Community Outreach Association (NVCOA) is committed to protecting the privacy, dignity, and trust of our donors. We value the generosity of every individual who supports our mission and take our responsibility to safeguard donor information seriously.

Information We Collect

When you donate or engage with NVCOA, we may collect limited personal information such as your name, contact details, and donation amount. This information is used solely to process donations, provide acknowledgments, and communicate updates related to our mission.

How Your Information Is Used

Donor information is used only for internal purposes, including processing and acknowledging donations, maintaining accurate financial and donor records, and sharing mission updates or fundraising communications when you have opted in.

How We Protect Your Privacy

NVCOA does not sell, trade, rent, or share donor information with third parties. Access to donor data is restricted to authorized personnel, and we use secure systems and trusted platforms to protect your information.

Your Choices

Donors may request to remain anonymous, update or correct their information, or opt out of future communications at any time.

Our Promise

Your generosity is honored with confidentiality, integrity, and respect. We are grateful for your trust and committed to stewarding both your gift and your privacy responsibly.
